Wardens Given Degree By 2300 Inmates
FOLSOM PRISON, Calif., Oct. 1. — (UP) — Warden Court Smith holds degree No. 1 from the University of Reppa—or something.

Anyway the warden today was the proud possessor of a framed "sheepskin" with signatures of 2,300 prisoners appended to a message expressing appreciation of the treatment accorded the convicts.

To the tune of a stirring march by the prison band, the "diploma" was presented to Warden Smith by Russel Griffin, serving a sentence from San Francisco for robbery.

This development in the sensational investigation of the Insull affairs came after a revelation in federal court that one of the principal Insull corporations was bankrupt four months before it went into receivership and announcement by Swanson that the Insulls used $170,000 of corporation funds to margin private brokerage accounts.

Swanson previously had indicated a grand jury inquiry in the Insull matter would open shortly, probably next week. The prosecutor's office then prepared plans for the return of the Insulls. Samuel Insull is in Paris. His brother Martin is at Orillia, Ont. Samuel Insull Jr., left the country only last week to join his father.

A study of extradition treaties with France and Canada already has been made by Swanson's aid in preparation for the possible forcible return of the once-powerful utilities magnates.

Swanson announced an audit of Middlewest Utilities Co., and its subsidiary, Mississippi Valley Utilities Investment Co., showed Samuel Insull had approved an advance by the company to brokers of $170,222. This amount was used to cover the personal trading accounts of Martin Insull.

A second transaction of Mississippi Valley Utilities whereby Martin Insull made an apparent profit of $10,344 through sale of securities to the concern above the market price also was described.

The revelation that Insull Utilities Investment Co. was insolvent in December, 1931, four months before it went into receivership came reluctantly from H. L. Stuart, associate of the Insulls and partner in the investment firm of Halsey, Stuart & Co.

Stuart agreed in U. S. district court that value of stocks in the firm's portfolio at that time totaled $7,000,000 against which there were bank loans of $40,000,000 and a $60,000,000 debenture issue.

"Then the company was insolvent in the amount of $23,000,000," Stuart said.

Writing under his own signature as editor-in-chief of the New Outlook, Smith reiterated his belief that the "hope of the country lies in Democratic success" in the forthcoming election but failed to mention the name of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The former Democratic standard bearer made a biting attack on the administration of President Hoover.

Smith pointed out that conflicting elements within the Democratic party were clearly indicated at the Chicago convention, where it was recalled the course of William Gilbre McAdoo and other supporters of John N. Garner caused the collapse of Smith's own effort to "stop Roosevelt."

"With some of the elements and forces in the party, I am completely out of sympathy, not for Roosevelt," Smith said.

Grand Jury To Inquire In To Insull Crash
CHICAGO, Oct. 1. — (UP) — State's Attorney John A. Swanson indicated today he was ready to use "stern methods" to force the return of Samuel and Martin J. Insull to this country if the heads of the fallen utilities dynasty refuse to appear here voluntarily.

This development in the sensational investigation of the Insull affairs came after a revelation in federal court that one of the principal Insull corporations was bankrupt four months before it went into receivership and announcement by Swanson that the Insulls used $170,000 of corporation funds to margin private brokerage accounts.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1. — (UP) — Heavily guarded by sheriff's deputies, Frank J. Egan, former public defender, was taken from the county jail today and started on the trip to San Quentin prison, where he will begin serving a life sentence for complicity in the murder of Mrs. Jessie Scott Hughes.

Just before leaving the jail, Egan handed his wife's telephone number to an assistant jailer.

"Please call her after I've gone," he said. "She doesn't know I'm leaving, and it's better she remain in ignorance until after I'm gone."

Egan gave up all hope of securing an appeal soon after his conviction, declaring that he could not receive a fair trial because of adverse public opinion.

Albert Tinnin, ex-convict who was tried with Egan and who also received a life sentence, has an appeal pending. He is in Folsom prison for violation of parole.

Verne Doran, also an ex-convict, who turned state's evidence and told how Egan forced Tinnin and himself to murder Mrs. Hughes so the former official could collect insurance of which he was the beneficiary, is in the county jail awaiting trial.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

News Behind the News

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

BOOST

The government pulmotor squad is working nights thinking up new ideas.

Forced respiration is being planned for many things. The next few weeks will witness some public tryouts of these hats off. It seems virtually certain a considerable measure of surface economic improvement will be wrought before election day.

President Hoover is privately playing around with a new farm idea. He is thinking about suggesting that the I. C. C. lower rail rates on farm products to permit marketing at a better price. The situation of wheat is on his daily agenda.

There have been buzzes around in high places that the railroads would not oppose such a temporary measure. They think it might help them move much grain now being held for better prices.

The idea is that the farmer would get the entire benefit of the reduction.

Mr. Hoover may present this idea in his Des Moines speech or just before it. Such a course was strongly recommended by some of the most conservative party associates of the chief executive.

They are convinced something outstanding must be done for the farmers before voting starts.

WHEAT

The Grain Stabilization Corporation became a little hard of hearing when Mr. Hoover asked it to act as middleman in the sale of wheat to China.

That was the reason for the Sunday conference of interested parties at the White House.

The basic idea was to sell the Chinese wheat on money borrowed from the R. F. C. Every one agreed with that. But someone had to act as middleman in the transaction. The Corporation could not deal directly with a foreign power.

The Grain Corporation boys did not care to underwrite Chinese paper. They suggested the Farm Board. The Farm Board suggested those directly interested in the grain trade. They in turn suggested some government agency.

Gentlemen at the keyhole report Mr. Hoover was somewhat exasperated by this buck passing. They thought early in the week there was a good prospect that the situation would be ironed out. It is not that Chinese credit is not good. Government information is to the effect that they are paying money into a sinking fund for that last wheat we gave them. It's just that no one cares to assume obligations for someone else in these days.

All the farm co-operatives in the Grain Corporation might be involved as guarantors for China if the original deal had gone through.

The administration big boys figure that Chinese wheat deal would boost the price 10 cents a bushel.

That is an optimistic estimate. More cautious sources think a 6 cents differential is more probable. The differential means that the market would be influenced to that extent, not necessarily for a full 6 cents increase over present prices.

RAILS

The railroad outlook will be considerably brighter shortly. The I. C. C. has indicated it will try a more moderate policy toward refunding. It altered its decision in the Nickel Plate case. The R. F. C. is planning to help with early work loans to the Pennsylvania, Jersey Central and New Haven. These will put small groups of men back to work.

NOTES

These stories you hear about Treasury refinancing on a long term basis are not quite true. Only a small part of the refinancing will be short term. The interest rate for long terms would make the treasury lose money. . . . It would also throw a lot of bonds on the market at a bad time. . . . J. J. J. scored one point against McAdoo on an old game when his Association Against Prohibition endorsed Talant Tubbs, senatorial opponent of McAdoo. . . . The action was taken by the executive committee of the association which clears Shouse's hands. . . . But it could hardly be said that it displeased him.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

NEW YORK CITY

The row between Mayor McKee and Comptroller Berry on the economy program has its roots in a Tammany effort to undermine McKee's prestige.

Berry rendered services back in the days of Hyman which he thought entitled him to the nomination for mayor. He has been on the outs with Tammany ever since because he was passed up. Now the old ambition is revived and he is playing Tammany's game to further his own prospects. Insiders will tell you that it isn't at all likely to get him anywhere.

The present strategy is an attempt to convince reality interests that McKee is a headline hunter and that he is committed to the Delaney plan for financing the subway. Actually McKee has not committed himself on this question either way.

McKee's activity on behalf of salary slashes has alienated the affections of some of his erstwhile supporters in his home borough of the Bronx. In the event of a showdown some of the Bronx leaders are apt to rally to the Tammany banner.

BONUS

The head of a large brokerage house recently gave such of his employees as were members of the American Legion the choice of resigning from the Legion or resigning their jobs. Which would you have done?

Stanwood Maken has picked some good names for his anti-bonus committee but New York expects very little in the way of results. It is significant that the National Economy League has shown no interest in the new organization although their objectives are more or less identical.

BYRD

It is understood here that Admiral Byrd is being played up as head of the National Economy League with the idea that he may possibly be offered an important position in the Roosevelt administration.

LEGION

Admiral Sims and Legion officials are both right in their amusing argument as to whether Sims can resign an honorary membership which the Legion never confers honor membership as a national organization. Individual posts sometimes do regardless of the constitution. Hence the confusion.

The Sims affair recalls what happened to General Pershing in 1926. A number of Legionnaires wanted to name Pershing as National Commander so that he would be the head man for the Paris convention but Pershing would not accept the election unless it were unanimous and certain ex-national guardsmen were strongly opposed to him. This created what diplomats call "a delicate situation."

The Legion got out of it by naming the General as Honorary Past National Commander. This was an unconstitutional office but no one ever challenged it.

Louis Johnson—new National Commander—is an active Democrat. He is a close associate of Clem Shaver, who ran the Davis campaign in 1924.

Many of the State Commanders who voted for the cash payment of the bonus at Portland are personally opposed to it. But they wanted to keep their jobs.

EARNINGS

Third quarter earnings statements are going to be terrible but they probably will not have much effect on stock prices. Wall Street is disposed to forgive the past if the future seems reasonably hopeful.

OLD TIME STAGES SCHEDULED TO TAKE PART IN FIESTA OF COSTA MESA POST OCTOBER 9

Languorous romance, sturdy drama and beautiful pagentry will unfold before spectators at the Fiesta del Oro to be staged Sunday, October 9 at historic old Derby ranch, west of Costa Mesa, by the Costa Mesa Legion post as a benefit for the Costa Mesa unemployed.

The celebration, judging from the large number of varied events announced, is not distinctly a rodeo, nor a 49ers exhibition, nor yet a pageant of pastoral California before "gringo" came but a combination of the most spectacular features of all three. The Legion committee in charge of arrangements is sparing neither pains nor expense to have every feature of the crowded day not only educational as well as delightfully colorful but also staged with utmost care to preserve the flavor and glamour of early days in California and to have each historically correct in costume and in incident.

There are still many pioneers in Orange county who crossed the plains in covered wagons and these will be carried back through the years at Fiesta del Oro, for a half-dozen covered wagons and early stage coaches have been entered in the day's events.

A. B. Lawrence, of Oceanside, today a vigorous young man in his sixties, will be on hand with a stage that was driven in early days by his father, later by himself when he was a mere boy. Lawrence promises to tool the vehicle and six horses through the grounds at break-neck speed just to show the way the old stage drivers handled the ribbons. Down out of Santa Ana canyon is coming Jack Gaines with a stage that helped make California history and now belongs to the Bixby ranch. From Talbert will be entered a prairie schooner that crossed the plains in days when that was litigation.

At noon will be held two events sure to be of keen interest to all present, the choosing of a queen and the holding of an old-time barbecue. A bevy of Orange county's prettiest girls is entered for the queen contest and more are coming daily.

The Fiesta del Oro is to be staged as an annual event by the Costa Mesa Legion post and this year's performance is expected to draw a large gathering of spectators. Costa Mesa is keenly in need of funds to care for its unemployed and needy over the winter and all receipts, over and above expenses, are to be used for that purpose. One modest entrance fee admits to the day's features including the barbecue which is in charge of W. K. Duffy, Santa Ana caterer.

JUDGE GRANTS SIX DIVORCES, ONE ANNULLED

One marriage was annulled and six divorce decrees granted Friday by Superior Judge James L. Allen in one of the heaviest divorce sessions the local court has experienced in several weeks.

John H. Lipe, who discovered three months after he had married Mildred Lipe that she had a former husband still living and from whom she was not divorced, was granted an annulment of the marriage. The couple was married in Yuma, Arizona, early this year and lived together about three months.

Julius Anderson, of Garden Grove, told the court that his wife preferred the company of sailors to that of her husband and was granted a decree. Anderson said that September 1, 1931, his wife told him that she was going to Long Beach to attend a beauty school. She has never returned since that day. Anderson alleges that she never attended the beauty school and only used that as an excuse to associate with other men. He told of a visit that he and his sister-in-law made to Mrs. Anderson's apartment last January when they found his wife in the company of a sailor. He also said that last July his wife visited him at Garden Grove and demanded money. When he refused to give her any, her companion, a sailor, who according to Anderson, was intoxicated, beat him severely.

Mrs. Helen G. Luckie told Judge Allen that when she married her husband Leo L. Luckie, a copper-smith in the navy, he promised to forsake the sea at the expiration of his enlistment, last January, and accept a position that had been offered him in Sacramento. She said that when January came he re-lin-istied without consulting his wife and has failed to provide her with necessary funds.

Mrs. Helen Blue was given an interlocutory decree from her husband Clifford Blue on her charge that he went out nights with other women, was habitually intoxicated and beat her on many occasions.

Mrs. Agnes Putnam also told the court that her husband, Edward Putnam, used her for a punching bag when he became angry or had been drinking. He beat her so severely on one occasion that she had him arrested and he was sentenced to a term in the Orange county jail for the offense, she testified. Mrs. Putnam was given a divorce.

Because her husband James Ruth, hit her on the jaw, kicked her many times and upon one occasion knocked her unconscious Mrs. Frieda Ruth was given a decree of divorce and her husband ordered to pay $7 weekly for the support of the couple's children.

Mrs. Mary Peruchietti was given a decree of divorce when she told the court that her husband John Peruchietti like to quarrel so well that he frequently called her on the telephone for the purpose of fussing. She also alleged that he called her vile names and struck her. She said that after leaving her husband she was forced, at the point of a gun, to accompany him on an automobile ride during which he beat her and stripped her engagement ring from her finger.

WILL ROGERS says:

BEVERLY HILLS, Oct. 1. (To the Editor of The Register.) Coast papers all excited because "Japan has bought more ammunition in the last month than in years—gun-cotton, nitrates and scrap iron."

Why worry about a little thing like that? Not being satisfied by making turtles out of us in swimming they hired our best diver after the Olympics, and in the next games may beat us in that. But here is one thing they didn't reckon on, our high diving is inherited from our politicians. Our public men do nothing but high dive. They climb up the ladder on promises, just before election, then dive off after they are elected. No sir, Japan you got a lot of diving to learn to catch us.

HOLD HEARING IN BEACH CASE ON OCTOBER 21

Hearing on the complaint of A. D. Marshall against the Standard Oil company, Huntington Beach corporation, Pacific Electric railway, Carr Oil company, and the city of Huntington Beach, seeking an injunction to prevent the city from leasing a portion of Ocean avenue for oil drilling, was postponed until October 21 when the case was called yesterday before Superior Judge G. K. Seovel, in department three, superior court.

Marshall brought the action seeking to halt the lease on the grounds that the property involved in the proposal had been deeded to the city of Huntington Beach for use exclusively as a public street and that leasing it for oil drilling would damage property of residents along the street.

In his complaint Marshall alleges that the property involved in the lease, a strip 100 feet wide, embracing Ocean avenue from Twenty-third street to the city limits, was deeded to the city on January 12, 1916, by the Huntington Beach corporation for street purposes only. On August 12, 1932, the council of the city of Huntington Beach leased the property to the Carr Oil company for oil drilling purposes.

He charges that the street involved in the lease is a part of the city street system, a major artery of Southern California and a part of the Coast highway from Long Beach to San Diego.

AUTHORIZE ISSUANCE OF M. W. D. BONDS; DETERMINE WAGE SCALE FOR EMPLOYEES

Authorization of the issuance of the first block of bonds, amounting to $2,016,000 to start work on the Colorado river aqueduct and adoption of a wage scale in accordance with the state prevailing wage law, were important actions of the Metropolitan Water District board of directors yesterday afternoon in Los Angeles, according to Col. S. H. Finley, Santa Ana member and secretary of the board.

The board of directors and the staff of engineers has been working on the wage scale problem for some time and there was little discussion on the matter before the scale was adopted.

This scale is not quite as high as was recommended by labor organizations, but is somewhat higher than many of the contractors are now paying. It was stated by Chief Engineer Frank E. Weymouth, and is considered an average scale.

The next step in the program to put men to work will be the issuance of contracts for the construction work on the aqueduct after advertising for bids, Colonel Finley said.

Board Rates
In addition to the wage scale, a rate will have to be established for board and housing of men. Weymouth announced that the cost of three meals a day and shelter will probably run $1.40 a day, as compared with $1.60 charged on the Hoover dam job.

The matter of finally settling the costs of room and board was not concluded by the directors, but was postponed until another board meeting which is to be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Directors expressed their desire to stagger the work on the aqueduct to afford work for the greater number of men possible. At the same time they recognized the practical obstacles that must be overcome, such as the nature and remoteness of much of the work.

Scale Adopted
Based on the eight-hour day with no extra pay for Sunday or holiday work, the wage schedule per day as adopted by the board of directors is as follows:

Blacksmith, $6; carpenter, $6; carpenter, form work, $5.50; concrete pumpman, $5; concrete equipment operator, $5.20; concrete finisher, $5.50; dragline or shovel operator, $5; dragline or shovel operator assistant, $5.20; driller, jack hammer man, $5; electrician, line-man, $7.20; fence erector, steel, $5.50.

Graderman, road machine operator, $5.50; hoistman, derrickman, crane operator, $6; laborer, $3.30; lather, $5; mason, $7.20; mechanic, repairman, pipeman, $6; miner, machineman, $5.50; miner, chuck tender, $5.20; motorman, $5.20; mucking machine operator, $5; painter, $7.20; plasterer, $7.20; plumber, $7.20; powderman, $6; roofer, $6; sheet metal worker, $7.20; steam fitter, $7.20; steel worker, reinforcing steel, $5.20; tile setter, $7.20.

Timber framer, $5.50; tractor driver, $5; trench machine operator, $6; truck driver, $5; welder, $7.20; well driller, $7.20. Any classification omitted herein not less than $3.20.

A number of Orange county men will be given work on the project as Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton as members of the district and only residents of member cities will be employed.

TEACHER CASES CONTINUED AS ANSWERS FILED

Hearing on the petitions for writs of mandate ordering the Santa Ana board of education to return Miss Bertha Briney and Miss Lois Gould to work as teachers in the Santa Ana school system was continued yesterday until October 11, when the cases were called before Presiding Judge James L. Allen.

Attorneys Harvey and Harvey, representing the Santa Ana board of education in the actions filed answers to the petitions of both teachers, who were refused contracts for the present school year. Miss Briney was denied employment on the grounds that it was necessary to reduce the teaching personnel and that she had not acquired permanent tenure. Miss Gould's status as a permanent teacher in the elementary school system was admitted but she was dropped when the board abandoned elementary music which she was teaching.

In her petition Mrs. Briney claimed that she had established her status as a permanent teacher in the junior high school and had been given a contract for the year 1931-32 recognizing her as a permanent teacher. Miss Gould claimed a permanent status in both high school and elementary districts.

Denies Tenure
Answering the Briney petition for a writ of mandate the board of education denied that the Santa Ana High school district was organized under the general law governing cities of the fifth class or that it has existed under those laws. It claimed that the affairs of the elementary, high school and junior college districts are conducted by the board of education sitting as three separate boards and denied that Miss Briney had ever been recognized as a permanent teacher. The answer also denied that Miss Briney had taught three complete school years prior to the close of the 1930-31 school year.

Referring to the charge that Miss Briney had received a contract listing her as a permanent teacher for the year 1931-32, the answer filed yesterday on behalf of the board of education charged that the contract issued that year was on an obsolete form and had been signed by George Newcom, secretary of the board of education without the knowledge or consent of board members, and that use of the word permanent was not authorized.

Answering the petition of Miss Gould the board admitted her status as a permanent teacher in the elementary district but denied a permanent status had been established in any other district. The answer alleged that Miss Gould had never been employed by any district other than the elementary and that all salary checks had been drawn on that district fund.

In his complaint Ruhl alleges that in July, 1930, he contracted to construct two sections of the highway in Orange and Riverside counties. The work was completed August 5, 1931, and to date has not been paid for. He also alleged that the district engineer never measured the work completed, as required under the contract as a basis for payment, and refused to do so. Because of this failure to measure the work Ruhl claims that any interpretation of the district engineer's plans and specifications for the work or decision on compensation is without authority and through mistake amounting to fraud.

Ruhl is demanding access to records of the district engineer in charges of construction work along the Ortega highway for the purpose of determining the amount of money due him for construction work and payment of the amount due which he alleges totals $19,494.66.

Judges Will Clamp Down On Speeders

With deaths from traffic accidents in Orange county at an unusually high figure this year, justices of the peace and city judges of the county, meeting in Fullerton last night, agreed to "clamp down" on careless and speeding drivers in the future.

Past and careless drivers who are brought into either justice or police courts in the future may expect severe penalties, for the judges and justices of the peace are bent on curbing the number of accidents in the county.

Requesting each citizen in the county to set an example when driving on the highway, a resolution was adopted seeking their cooperation in the move by driving at a "respectable" speed.

Hosts at the meeting, which was attended by 19 officials, were Justices Halsey Spence, of Fullerton, Charles Kinsler, of Brea, and Judge Frank Tausch, of Anaheim. The next meeting will be held in Laguna Beach on December 2, according to Justice Kenneth B. Morrison of Santa Ana, who attended the meeting.

A Trust Under Will

benefits ALL members of your family

A trust will assure the conservation and proper productivity of an estate as a whole, but consider, for a moment, the comforting influence it yields on the various members of a family.

Financial attainment varies among children. Disposition, sex, training, influence it. It is not unusual to see one beneficiary in want a few years after receiving the same portion as others from an estate. Another may be quite successful in managing his

Under this plan, all share in the earning power and appreciation, each portion aids and supports the others. It is for the good of all—a hardship on none. Such is the workings of a trust under Will. Let our officers talk with you about its benefits and results.

CONFERENCE OF WELFARE BOARD HELD ON OCT. 14

ORANGE, Oct. 1.—Closer cooperation between organizations of the city in welfare work is expected to result from the special meetings of the Orange Community Welfare board, called for October 14 at the American Legion clubhouse at 1 p. m. Each organization of the city has a representative on the board and by a plan proposed at a board meeting yesterday, representatives are to secure from the organizations they represent, suggestions for furthering the work.

Mrs. Nina Esterbrook suggested yesterday that a soup kitchen this winter might help to solve the problem of keeping transients on the move through the city and would be less likely to encourage them to linger than if uncooked food was given to them and they were obliged to establish temporary camps to cook. She suggested that women of the city would donate time to preparing the meals.

Mrs. Lillian Welterman, welfare worker, made a request for a tent for a family wishing to go back to Indiana who have no money to go into auto camps along the homeward journey.

Plans were made to secure the information regarding state camps the coming winter. J. B. Wilbur asked the approval of the board for a drive for funds for the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. for the coming year. The request was granted.

FIVE ENTERTAINMENTS TO BE PRESENTED THIS FALL BY WELFARE BOARD, LEGION

ORANGE, Oct. 1.—A series of five entertainments to be sponsored by the Orange Community Welfare board and the American Legion at a cost of 75 cents for the series will be given as a means of raising money for welfare work. It was announced yesterday by W. W. Perry, president, after the proposal had been brought before the board for its approval. Ross Stuckey and Claude Potter were appointed by the welfare executive board and the Legion some time ago to work on the project.

A proposal was received from the American Legion auxiliary to furnish luncheons for members of the welfare board. After discussing the matter it was decided that a luncheon should precede the coming regular meeting on October 28.

Mrs. Lillian Welterman gave a report of the welfare store for the month of September and reported that 300 sacks of flour had been distributed through the Red Cross, 303 garments distributed, two mattresses and comforts given out to needy families and 112 men given food at the store.

Wood sold totaled $27.50 and three cords have been ordered which are still to be delivered, the worker reported. Foodstuffs given to families included 21 lugs of tomatoes, 18 lugs of peaches, seven lugs of figs, nine sacks of corn, three boxes of carrots, four boxes of turnips, 20 pounds of rhubarb, two bushels of fresh fish, 10 gallons of meat fryings, 15 boxes of oranges a week, 25 loaves of bread daily, 400 pounds of macaroni and grocery orders for 18 families.

The worker also reported that three men had been given state work and that nine men and 11 women had been given odd jobs.

DOGS IN NIGHT GRID GAME AT BOWL

HOOKS AND SLIDES

by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

Word is wafted from South Bend that the man they'll have to watch this year is Nick Lukata, a halfback who was out most of last season because of injuries.

Lou Gehrig says that Johnny Allen is the boy who will beat those Cubs in the series.

If the Cubs had General Alvin Crowder they would win the world series rather easily, but that's no tip, after all, because Crowder gets his pin money from the Senators.

Riggs Stephenson is one of the few batters in baseball who have no "number" because he can hit curves, hard ones, sinkers or spitballs. He is a late hitter on some pitches, and an early hitter on others, depending upon the nature of the deliveries. Watch him.

The goofiness of "Lefty" Gomez has been greatly exaggerated and is an outward show. He has a lot of common sense in that left arm of his, my dear people.

WHAT TO PITCH TO RUTH?
The Cubs have a great fighting man in Mark Koenig, former Yankee, who will give the Cub pitchers lots of good advice on those Yankee batters. Aside: Some of the Yankees have only one weakness—a base on balls.

The story that Bobby Jones has lost his touch is a very large and thick slice of baloney. Bobby is formally shot a 69 at Five Farms, inserting five birdies over 18 holes.

One of these days Gus Sonnenberg is going flying through the ropes on one of those flying tackles and isn't coming back.

The groaners have found a new way to combat the flying tackle, which is to leap high, with legs wide apart, and let your flying tackle sail through. Aside: The idea probably was copied by some wrestler upon viewing the Colossus of Rhodes.

BRUINS BRAVE RAIN, NOSE OUT IDAHO, 6-0

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 1.—(UP)—Plooding through mud and rain, the University of California at Los Angeles football eleven defeated the University of Idaho, 6 to 0, in Olympic stadium last night.

The visitors presented a defense which was able to hold the Bruins in all but the second quarter, when Keeble, Bruin fullback, broke away for a 12-yard run to the goal.

Keeble made the Vandal 16-yard line just before the final whistle on an intercepted pass and a 25-yard run down the muddy field.

Keeble was the outstanding player of the game, carrying the ball 37 times and advancing it a total of 109 yards.

There was little excitement in the game for the 4000 fans who braved the weather. The contest showed the Bruins to be a strong defense team, as well as having an offense which garnered eight first downs to Idaho's seven.

Claim Gehrig Greatest YANK SLUGGER HIDDEN BEHIND RUTH GLAMOUR

BY BILL CORUM
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—(INS)—There will be a young man at Wrigley field this afternoon who is the greatest ball player of this world's series. Wait! Hold that just a minute.

There will be a young man at Wrigley field this afternoon who is the greatest ball player in the game today. Beg pardon. Give me just one more chance, won't you?

There will be a young man at Wrigley field this afternoon who is one of the four greatest ball players of all time. His name is Henry Louis Gehrig, and if I'm wrong who's going to sue me?

The other three who deserve to be bracketed with him in baseball's all-time hall of fame were Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth and another Dutchman, named Wagner.

What an infield that Wagner and this Gehrig would have made! Me and Joe DiMaggio could have played second and third. It wouldn't have mattered.

There is nothing wrong with Lou Gehrig as a ball player. If you think there is, ask the Cubs. But he does have one complex. He thinks he is standing in the shadow of a mountain, whereas it is only the thin reflection cast by a tired old man.

The truth is that on this October day, Babe Ruth, super-player and superman that he has been, cannot carry Lou Gehrig's bats. Which statement still will lie as it falls if the Old Bambino hits two or three home runs this afternoon, as he may.

Gehrig is Bashful. It has been largely Gehrig's own fault that he hasn't been more widely and generally accepted as

The Register's big electric scoreboard will be operated tomorrow when the fourth game of the Yankee-Cub series is played in Chicago. Game-time is 11:30 a. m., Santa Ana time.

The outstanding star he really is. Over the years he has been such a hero worshipper of Ruth he could not understand those who did not feel, as he did, that Ruth was the Yankee.

And now diffidently, almost apologetically, I should like to say something that has been on my mind for several days.

I believe that the Cubs made a grave mistake when they voted Rogers Hornsby and Mark Koenig out of a full share of their world's series money. It was so obvious to everybody that it was an injustice to both men that it must have had its effect on the morale of the team.

A team must have an unbroken front in a series such as this, and things such as that do not make for high morale. That both men were entitled to a full share is not even open to argument.

Hornsby put the team together and left it in second place within easy striking distance. Koenig came along in time to bolster the week-hitting infield and make the flag a certainty. That much is history.

What the Cubs would have done under the Rajah's management had he continued at their head until the end of the season is mere conjecture. Also what they have done in this series is but there have done in 1926 in which he led a team against the Yankees when they were close to tops and Ruth was Ruth.

WEIGHT-LIFTING CLASS TO BE ORGANIZED AT Y. M. C. A.

"Strong backs," with or without the traditional "weak minds," may be the result of Physical Director Bob Russick's latest outburst at the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A.

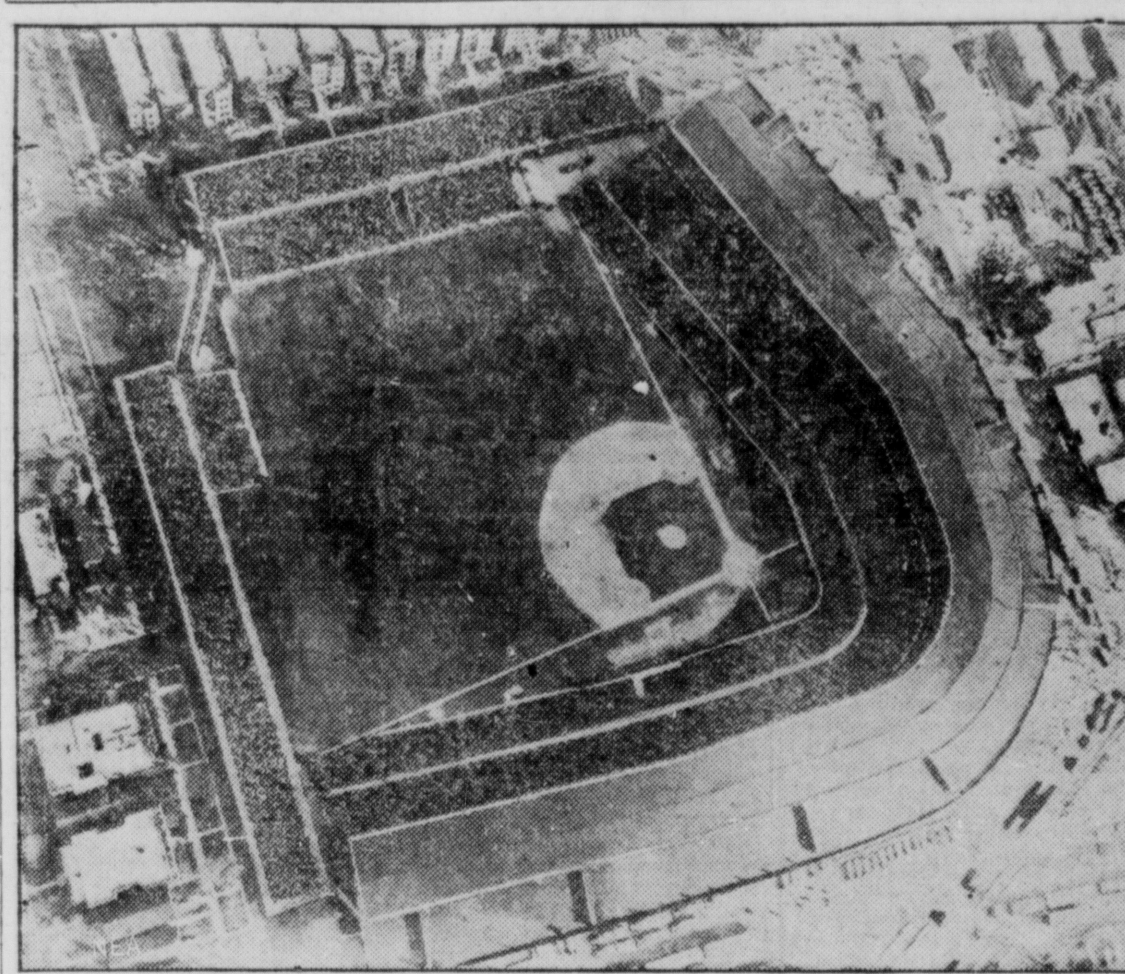

He is ready to start work with a group of ambitious men who want to be weight-lifters. A weight-lifter is usually seen on the stage or at carnivals and circuses, but Russick says public appearances will not be demanded of his followers.

CHICAGO'S PLAYGROUND FOR WORLD SERIES

With two world series games played in New York, the Cubs and Yankees will take up their baseball argument in three more games—if the series goes that long—in Chicago. Below is an excellent aerial view of Wrigley field, home grounds of the Cubs, where the games will be played, the first today.

SAINTS HARD PRESSED TO BEAT COMPTON, 6-0; KIDDER SCORES TOUCHDOWN IN LAST 5 MINUTES

Santa Ana Hi's long list of un-Compton scoring threats in the broken football successes was still secure at 17 today, although there were moments at Poly field yesterday when it seemed virtually certain the remarkable record would be interrupted by a tie, or even perish in defeat.

Extended to the positive utmost, the Southern California prep champions had to call on every ounce of their available manpower and capitalize on every Compton blunder before staggering home to a 6-0 victory in the last five minutes of play.

A fumbled punt, batted about by the Compton safety and ultimately recovered on Compton's 18-yard line by Santa Ana's vigilant "Bud" Boyle, created ways and means for the belated triumph. It took eight plays—two first downs—for Santa Ana to wallow through a stern and stubborn defense to its touchdown.

Kidder Plunges Across Captain "Red" Kidder, inspired by his finest performance of the new season, finally broke the Tartars' resistance on the last down of Santa Ana's last chance. He scored on a split back, going over his own left guard and left tackle where for the moment Messers, Howard Raeh and Roland Williams were operating. On the previous down, he had been stopped inches short of the touchdown but Compton couldn't prevent his last headlong rush to the scoring zone.

Earlier in the half, Santa Ana had presumably made a touchdown, Captain Kidder accounting for it, too, but the points were disallowed because of an offside penalty.

Compton's ability was quite generally underestimated in pre-game calculations here. Well coached and directed, the Bay Leaguers decisively outplayed Santa Ana's second string in the first half, and proved a willing contender against Coach "Tex" Oliver's regulars who came into action after their brethren had staved off two serious

Penalty, Pass Stop Tartars This represented Compton's chief threat, although late in the second period the Tartars completed several passes and advanced as far as the champions' 19-yard line before a 15-yard penalty and Kidder's timely pass-interception broke their hearts anew. They never mentioned the Saint goal again.

A 25-yard runback by a punt by the brilliant Conrad started Santa Ana on its way to the touchdown that didn't count. Conrad was finally tackled on Compton's 33-yard line from where he engineered a drive, featuring Strancke and Kidder, that moved forward steadily to the 2-yard mark.

The goal line but some Saint was offside and the touchdown nullified. A pass over the goal was grounded and Compton Saint coaching staff which has been worrying about his knee injuries. Kidder's splendid all-around work means he is ready

U. S. C. Adopts Crew As Student Sport

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 1.—Crew will be introduced at the University of Southern California this year as an intra-mural sport. Under the department of physical education, an informal campus rowing club, open to all registered students at S. C., will be organized and facilities of the Long Beach course will be used.

Announcement of this policy was made today by President R. B. von Klein Smid, who said that it was the hope of university authorities that such a plan may arouse student interest in the sport and provide preliminary training so that at an appropriate time when the expenditure could be justified the university might launch rowing as a major sport.

Oilers Play Jell-Well Co. Here Sunday

Boasting a pitcher who won 20 games as against 7 defeats in the Western association this year, the Jell-Well Co. invades Santa Ana Sunday for a contest at Santa Ana Airways park with Carl Rucker's Hancock Oilers. Frazier is the hurler's name. Two Garibaldi brothers, brothers of the San Francisco Seals' second baseman, will be in the Jell-Well lineup.

The Santa Ana club has groomed Joe Erwin and Roland Sheppard for mound work, with Sheppard slated to start. Clarence Hapes will be "Bomo" Koral, first base; Bill Sweet, second; "Mem" Thiery, shortstop, and "Mem" Hill, third. Leavitt Daley, "Chief" Hatfield and Fritz Gunther will patrol the fields.

Rucker has arranged a game Sunday-week with the Happy Repairmen, a team representing the Automotive Sales company of Los Angeles.

CONQUERORS OF S. C. FRESHMEN BATTLE LOYOLA

The arcs of Santa Ana's Municipal Bowl will shed light on still another sports subject tonight—football!

The city's first attempt at nocturnal gridiron activity begins at 8 o'clock, Santa Ana's undefeated and promising junior college squad opposing the powerful freshman team of Loyola university, Los Angeles.

If night football at the Bowl proves practicable and popular, it is entirely possible that other after-dinner contests will be scheduled this year, with a full program arranged for the 1933 season by which time the floor of the Sixth and Flower street stadium will be turfed.

Not only will it be Bill Cook of the Dons versus Bill Sargent of the Baby Lions, but a miniature Jones arrangement competing with a Notre Dame system which it decided, 13 to 6, at Poly field last season.

Santa Ana will go postward twice as good as it was in 1931. With a stronger line, an exceptional backfield, the Dons will not be the underdogs this evening.

Fresh Will Test S. A. Line Loyola's yearlings, proud of their baffling spin plays, through the center of the line, should greatly test Santa Ana's forwards who revealed some weakness while beating the Southern California Freshmen, 13-7, at Olympic stadium last Saturday.

Recalling that a well-planned aerial attack had its effect on Loyola in 1931, Coach Cook smiled today as he compared his 1932 air maneuvers with the less brilliant ones which caused the visitors trouble last year.

The Dons invaded the Bowl last night, where for 30 minutes they worked out under the lights, which were glary in certain sections of the playing field. Coach Cook was assured, however, that ground equipment would be in good condition tonight. The field, obviously not as satisfactory as turf ground, did not bother his men who declared the soil was softer than they had expected.

The Don mentor never selects a complete lineup until just before the opening whistle, but past drills indicate that Harold Welty, "Triple" star, more than likely will receive the call over Bill Bouldin at quarterback, and that Fred Bell, Hideo Higashi and Wally Smith also will start in the backfield, Smith at full. WORLD SERIES CLOSEUPS

Mark Anthony may have been some shakes in those Egyptian minor leagues, but old Mark couldn't have had anything on his namesake who plays short-stop for the Chicago Cubs—Mark Anthony Koenig.

The Cub short-stop, who is playing against old mates with whom he took part in three "suicidal" world series, owes his break into big league baseball, and a comeback, to someone else's tough luck.

Koenig was sent down the river by New York in 1931 after his eyes failed. Detroit tried him out, and even gave him a chance on the mound as a pitcher, but Mark couldn't make the grade and was sent back to San Francisco, the town where he was born in 1904.

He proceeded to scorch the Coast league early this year, and the Cubs called him back when they were in second place, several games behind the Pirates. Mark sat on the bench a while, and then came his break.

Bill Jurgens, regular shortstop, was shot by a girl friend. Koenig stepped into his shoes and has been there ever since, despite Jurgens' return to the game.

This incident calls to mind a similar one which resulted in Mark becoming a full-time infielder. It was at St. Paul in 1924. Shortstop Ebone injured his ankle during batting practice, and Koenig, a pitcher, had to fill in for him during the playing of the "Little World Series." Mark won the series for St. Paul nearly single-handed.

Since coming back with the Cubs, this "blind guy" has managed to hit around .365 in about 50 games.

"BACK STREET" OPENS SUNDAY AT BROADWAY

West Coast To Play "Painted Woman" On Monday

SPENCER TRACY, SHANNON HAVE LEADING ROLES

Breathing an unusually authentic South Seas atmosphere, "The Painted Woman" delighted the audiences and brought new honors to its leading players, Spencer Tracy and Peggy Shannon, with its opening Monday at the Fox West Coast theater.

Supported by a notable cast, these two screen celebrities scored outstanding triumphs with their respective portrayals—Tracy as the roving soldier of fortune temporarily fishing for pearls, Miss Shannon as the hard-boiled, disillusioned girl.

Their brilliant efforts, the splendid work of William (Stage) Boyd, Irving Pichel, Raul Roulien, Murray Kinnell, Laska Winter and other actors, and John Blystone's smooth direction of the exciting story, all serve to make "The Painted Woman" an absorbing as well as a refreshing picture. Don't miss it.

BIG FOOTBALL FILM SOON TO SHOW HERE

"All-American," reported to be one of the best football pictures released in the past several years, will be shown in Santa Ana in the near future.

Featuring the All-American football team of last year, the plot is built around a titular football game, has a sinister plot and its football scenes of game play are said to far excel any other picture of its kind.

The picture is booked into the Fox Broadway theater here for October 13, 14 and 15.

"RED DUST" SOON TO PLAY SANTA ANA

"Red Dust," the picture Jean Harlow was making at the time her husband, Paul Bern, committed suicide, will be shown in Santa Ana soon.

The picture has not been released, but Santa Ana will be among the first cities it plays. It is tentatively booked into the Fox Broadway theater starting on October 16.

"CHANCE IN HEAVEN" PARAMOUNT FILM

"Chance at Heaven," Liberty Magazine serial by Vina Delmar, author of "Bad Girl," has been purchased by Paramount. It will be filmed as a team vehicle for Gene Raymond and Frances Dee, young players who make their debut as a romantic combination in "The Night of June 12."

HERE MONDAY

"GRAND HOTEL" COMING BACK TO BROADWAY

"Grand Hotel," one of the biggest pictures of the year, which played at the Fox Broadway theater several weeks ago as a road show at top prices, will be returned here, starting October 9, next Sunday as a regular feature at popular prices.

With the great Garbo, John and Lionel Barrymore, Joan Crawford and Jean Hersholt, the picture boasts of the largest number of big stars ever to appear in a single production.

It will play at the Fox Broadway theater four days.

GAYNOR-FARRELL TO SOON MAKE 'TESS'

In response to thousands of letters and cables received from all over the world, Fox Films has definitely decided to team Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell in the starring roles of "Tess of the Storm Country." Miss Gaynor had been at work on the picture for several days under the direction of Al Santell, when Farrell, having just completed his role opposite Joan Bennett in "Wild Girl," joined the cast.

"Tess of the Storm Country" is the screen version of Grace Miller White's well known novel. June Clyde, Claude Gillingwater, Edward Pawley, Dudley Digges, Matty Kemp, DeWitt Jennings, Eleanor Hunt and Marjorie Peterson have the chief supporting roles.

"Hat Check Girl" Ends Run At W. C.

Said to be the most accurate and representative picture of New York night life yet shown on the speaking screen, "Hat Check Girl" is attracting much favorable attention from local film-goers during its showings tonight and Sunday at the Fox West Coast theater.

One reason for this realism lies in the fact that the director, Sidney Lanfield, and every prominent member of the cast has lived in New York at some time in his or her career, and thus knows the city and its atmosphere at first hand.

Sally Eilers, who enacts the title role, was born in Manhattan and attended the Horace Mann school there before going to California and film fame. Ben Lyon, who plays opposite her, was a featured actor and a star on Broadway for years prior to his going west. The other principals, Ginger Rogers, Monroe Owsley, Arthur Pearson, Niel Madison, Purnell Pratt, Dewey Robinson, Harold Goodwin, and Eulalie Jensen, have all had New York stage careers for varying lengths of time.

FAIRBANKS JR. COMES SUNDAY TO WALKER'S

Douglas Fairbanks Jr., lately starred in "Union Depot," and "It's Tough to Be Famous," comes to Walker's State theater again tomorrow in "Love Is a Racket," a First National picture in which the young star appears as a wise Broadway columnist.

Doug, Jr. has rapidly come to the top of the list of popular stars for his portrayals of contemporary types of young heroes. As the columnist in "Love Is a Racket," Doug writes of the doings, love affairs and quarrels of Broadway's great and near great. He himself becomes involved in a love affair of the type he writes about, in spite of his supposed wisdom and knowledge of the gay white way.

The columnist's love affair, however, turns out differently for him. He becomes embroiled in a series of happenings which lead to an exciting climax.

The story is fast-paced and modern in plot, action and setting. The cast brings youth and charm to the story, as well as the definite talents which have brought the young players to screen heights. Playing leading roles with young Fairbanks Jr. are Ann Dvorak, Lee Tracy, Frances Dee, Lysle Talbot, Warren Hymer and Andre Luguet.

BUENA PARK O. E. S. CHAPTER IN SOCIAL

ESTELLE TAYLOR IN 'CALL HER SAVAGE'

Estelle Taylor and Alexander Kirkland have been added to the cast of "Call Her Savage," the Fox picture, which will mark the return of Clara Bow to the screen after an absence of nearly two years. Miss Taylor will play the role of Miss Bow's mother. Other members of the cast are Gilbert Roland, Thelma Todd, Monroe Owsley, Weldon Heyburn and Willard Robertson. John Francis Dillon is directing the picture.

That's pretty good news about Charles Ray coming back into pictures again. And being co-starred with Flit O'Drury for his first picture. Wonder what sort of a team they will make? At least they're totally different—which may or may not be a good thing. This will be Charles's first appearance in the talkies. Hope he's more successful than Pola Negri was in her attempted comeback.

Assuming the role of a prophet, I would say there is going to be something popping around our studios almost any day. Saw Darryl Zanuck, Warner production chief, in a big huddle way off in an isolated corner of the Roosevelt Roof the other day. And Winnie Sheehan, Fox boss, was doing plenty of talking in the Brown Derby that same night. Most of the really important conferences are held in just such places.

her of the door prize and Wilton Alpanah and Durwood Miller von cakes. Mrs. Carl B. Snyder and Mrs. W. R. Shaw were hostesses for the evening.

LOCAL GROCERY BUYS FIVE NEW REO TRUCKS

Five new Reo trucks, equipped with special bodies to conform with the needs of the Smart and Reo Grocery company here for moving groceries from many warehouses to their chain stores have just been delivered through the Santa Ana agency, operated by W. W. Woods at 602 West Fourth street.

W. S. Suddaby, president of the company, after making considerable investigation regarding hauling costs, decided on Reo as the answer to the present day economic condition. The next item taken into consideration was tire equipment.

Realizing that more people ride on Goodyear tires and that more tonnage is hauled on Goodyear tires, Mr. Suddaby decided that Goodyear and Reo was the answer to low maintenance, he said.

STANTON Group In Card Party

STANTON, Oct. 1.—Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Brown, of Valencia Park, entertained the Sunshine and Shower club at their home Thursday evening. A pot luck 6 o'clock dinner was served. Tables were set for 20 adults with the children being served at the home of Mrs. Moolick.

Later there were five tables of cards, with Mr. Crockett of Blando Beach, winning first score for men and Mrs. Crockett the prize for women. The secretary of the club, Mrs. R. O. Bennett, was absent as she is spending a few days with her son G. W. Irwin at Delhi.

George Arliss At Broadway On October 6

Several weeks ago a picture was previewed at the Fox Broadway theater, which in the minds of a number of Santa Ana theater goers was one of the liveliest comedies the screen has offered in a long time.

It was "A Successful Calamity," starring George Arliss. Many will remember the sparkling comedy lines, the plot which concerns a millionaire who went broke and recovered his fortune and at the same time tested the loyalty of his family.

This picture will be returned to the Fox Broadway theater starting next Thursday and playing through Saturday, as a regular feature.

McLaglen, Lowe To MAKE NEW PICTURE

Victor McLaglen has been signed by Fox Films for a new, and as yet, untitled film in which he will be once more co-starred with his screen buddy, Edmund Lowe.

McLaglen is best known to picturegoers for his famous characterization of Captain Flagg, and Edmund Lowe for his humorous portrayals of the wise-cracking Sergeant Quirt. As Flagg and Quirt, McLaglen and Lowe made the Fox pictures, "What Price Glory," "The Cock Eyed World" and "Women Of All Nations" under the direction of Raoul Walsh.

Production will be commenced upon the completion of "Rackety Rax" in which McLaglen plays the leading role. Lowe will be seen currently in the title role of "Chandu, The Magician."

Thousands of lives have been wrecked on the Rocks of Indecision. If you will say to yourself today, "I will lift myself out of the crowd . . . Times are now on the upgrade. Business is coming back. We are receiving calls for our graduates again. Soon there will be more positions than we can fill. Will you be ready to accept one of these good positions? It will pay you to borrow money, if necessary, to start your training now rather than idly wait for better times. FIVE ACTS OF VODVIL TODAY AT WEST COAST

Five acts of vaudeville are seen at the Fox West Coast theater tonight and tomorrow, again proving that good vaudeville has its place in the hearts of Santa Ana theater goers.

The type of vaudeville shown during the past several weeks at the theater has won a week-end attendance that has packed the theater for every show.

Manager Lou Goux said today that the best of the acts obtainable will continue to be presented. He points with pride to the line up for this week which is as follows: Paul Gordon and Fay, novelty uncyclists; Joe Fong, Chinese singer and comedian; Selma, Arthur and Eddy, in artistic dancing moments; Tolmako and Harris in "Bumps and Dances"; and the big closing flash act is Avdalas and company, with company of eight people in one of most spectacular acts in vaudeville "A Night in a Magician's Den."

The area of Alaska is nearly equal to that of Texas, California, Montana, Maryland and Delaware combined.

FANNIE HURST STORY BROUGHT TO SANTA ANA

"Back Street," from the novel by the same name by Fannie Hurst, and said to be one of the most powerful dramas ever brought to the screen, will open tomorrow at the Fox Broadway theater.

The picture was played as a preview at the Fox Broadway theater several weeks ago. It left a marked impression on an audience which packed the theater.

The stars include Irene Dunn, John Boles, Zasu Pitts, and June Clyde. It was directed by John M. Stahl and was produced by Carl Laemmle Jr.

The story of "Back Street" has been read in a million homes. The dialogue in the picture is swift, sure and entertaining at all times, while the plot, which concerns a kept woman, in love but always unable to marry her man, because he is married to someone else, will appeal to all kinds of audiences.

All through life she goes as the woman on "Back Street." Even when his children are grown, she remains in the rear of his life, a thing essential to him, but at the same time something he must never admit. Then the son finds out about his father's other wife.

The plot is dynamic. Her life, her desires, her freedom, all are overshadowed by the man whom she knows she can never have. "Back Street" should prove popular.

PASTOR ARRANGES COMMUNION TALK

FULLERTON, Oct. 1.—His lecture on "The Grand Canyon as a Path to the Presence of God" will be illustrated by stereoscopic slides Sunday night, Dr. Graham C. Hunter announced today. The talk follows the regular young people's meeting and the song service of the evening.

Dr. Hunter will talk on a communion subject at the morning hour, when communion will be observed.

The temperature of Venus is thought to be about 10 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit, both day and night.
